Manorafon getting to us

Manorafon, Penbryn, Sarnau, SA44 6QH

Approaching from the north:

From Aberystwyth follow the A487 coast road towards Cardigan. Stay on this road, passing through Aberaeron and Synod Inn, then the smaller villages of Plwmp, Pentregat and Brynhoffnant.

Shortly after you pass through Brynhoffnant, as you enter Sarnau, look out for a crossroads with a converted church in front of you to the right. Turn right at this crossroads and follow this narrow road until you come to a junction with a sign to Llangranog. Bear left at this junction, go past Maesglas Holiday Park and take the next right, signposted to Penbryn beach. Manorafon is the second entrance on the right along this road.

Approaching from the south:

From Cardigan follow the A487 coast road towards Aberystwyth. Stay on this road passing through Penparc, Blaenporth and Tanygroes.

Shortly after passing through Tanygroes you will see signposts to the left to Penbryn and Tresaith. Take this left turn and follow for approximately half a mile, then take the next right. Shortly after turning go straight over the crossroads (where you have right of way) and continue for about half a mile. Take the next left, signposted Penbryn beach. Manorafon is the second driveway on the right hand side.

Manorafon log cabins

Our cabins are light, warm and comfortable and ideal for year round enjoyment with heating available for the colder months.

They are grouped together in their own cluster with mature landscaping and terraces. They are spacious with good sized open-plan living and dining spaces, and comfortable bedrooms and bathrooms.

Kitchens are fitted with a cooker and fridge and all bathrooms have showers.

The cabins all have outdoor decked areas with chairs, offering views of the sea and surrounding woodland.
